Looking to convert your ice arena into a multi-use facility?

Imagine having the option of converting your rink into a true multipurpose venue for concerts, trade shows, and various other special events. EventDeck Ice (ED Ice) allows you to do just that, creating additional revenue streams throughout the year. EventDeck Ice floor cover system enables you to quickly and efficiently protect your ice while hosting a variety of special events.

EventDeck Ice is the premier temporary ice arena floor; used worldwide at rinks at all levels. ED Ice is uniquely designed to protect your ice against damage from special events and to create a clean and seamless surface that is safe and attractive. Each EDIce module is composed of two separate pieces connected to form a single module. The pieces trap air inside insulating the floor, keeping the top surface warm and helping to prevent condensation. The bottom piece is designed to eliminate ruts in the ice from waffle-type designs and to provide traction to prevent tile slipping. This design allows for partial installations of the floor while maintaining a sturdy surface. The smooth top surface design is easy to clean and helps prevent liquid and debris from flowing onto your ice.

Additionally, EventDeck Ice is manufactured using a high-impact polypropylene plastic giving it a high compressive strength accommodating weight loads of up to 20,000 lbs. per square foot static load and no absorption of moisture. Its durable construction and unique design can handle the heavy moving weights associated with dasher board glass, staging, event equipment and forklifts and will not warp, rot, crack, fade, or delaminate.

When installed ED Ice forms the perfect base for seating, staging, game courts, and people, and can be molded in custom colors to tie into the existing colors of your facility. Carpet and turf can safely be taped or stapled directly onto the floor for a more formal affair.
